English Grammar Quiz

I. Multiple Choice Questions (10 points)

1. Which of the following nouns forms its plural by adding "es"?

   a) Book

   b) Cat

   c) Bus

   d) Chair

2. "The" is used to refer to:

   a) Something general

   b) Something not specifically identified

   c) A specific noun known to both speaker and listener

   d) A noun starting with a vowel sound

3. Which demonstrative adjective is used for something far and singular?

   a) This

   b) That

   c) These

   d) Those

4. Which possessive adjective means "de él"?

   a) My

   b) Your

   c) His

   d) Her

5. Which of the following is an uncountable noun?

   a) Apple

   b) Chair

   c) Water

   d) Book

6. You use "there is" with:

   a) Plural nouns

   b) Two or more items

   c) Singular nouns or uncountable nouns

   d) Only countable nouns

7. Which quantifier is used for "muchos/muchas" with countable nouns?

   a) Much

   b) Little

   c) Many

   d) Any

8. If a noun ends in "sh", how do you typically form its plural?

   a) Add "s"
   b) Add "es"

   c) Change "sh" to "ies"

   d) No change

9. "An" is used before words that begin with a:

   a) Consonant sound

   b) Vowel sound

c) Specific noun

d) Plural noun

a) Action

b) Description

10. The possessive with 's is primarily used to show:

c) Belonging

d) Location

II. Fill-in-the-Blanks (5 points)

1. Most plural nouns in English are formed by adding "__s__" to the end of the word.
2. "A" is used before words that begin with a __consonante__ sound.
3. "__That__" is used to refer to something close in plural.
4. The possessive with 's is used to show that something belongs to someone, especially when referring to _people_ or _animals_.
5. We use words like "much," "a little," "some" with __countable__ nouns to express quantity correctly.

III. Open-Ended Questions (5 points)

1. Explain the difference between "this" and "that" in terms of proximity and number.

The word This is used for objects that are close to you, as opposed to that which refers to objects that are far away

2. Provide an example of a sentence using "there is" and another using "there are," and explain why you chose each one.

The 5 dogs are over there (far away).
My friend is over there (far away).

3. According to the presentation, what is the "quick tip for students" to determine if a noun is countable or uncountable?

If it ends in "s" or "es," and also if they are objects that can be clearly touched and seen.

4. List three possessive adjectives and their meanings in Spanish, as presented in the lecture.

her
his
their

6. Describe the main difference between definite and indefinite articles and give an example of each.
7. : Used when the listener or reader knows the exact identity of the noun, either because it was mentioned before, is unique, or is clear from the context. It works with singular and plural nouns.
8. Indefinite Articles ("a" or "an"): Used when introducing a noun for the first time, or when talking about any non-specific member of a group. They work only with singular, countable nouns. Use "a" before consonant sounds and "an" before vowel sounds